The passion for the engines has always been in the veins of Giulia De Martino. She comes from a family that for generations has been driving car racing champions. She is also a pilot, an exceptional talent who at the age of seventeen is taking part in the GT Championship, under the guidance of her father Mario. But one day everything changes and Giulia is faced on the track and in life, alone. When her life falls apart, her only hope is her brother, a drug addict and former rally champion.
